

Cultural Connections

When Nathalie Quezada became aware of the disconnect between the Syracuse city police and local Latino community, she took action. Inspired by a public policy course, she created the Cross-Cultural Connections Program to teach police officers Spanish and increase their awareness of Latino culture through interactions with Latino/a youth.

On Track

The Bandier Program for Music and the Entertainment Industries is truly unique. The vision of music publisher Martin Bandier, it is the only executive track program without a performance requirement. Bandier Program graduates are well prepared to hit the ground running with a comprehensive understanding of music, business, media, and the liberal arts.
